Outbreak at Springfield is Feared by Officials

RESULT OF KLEAGLE ARREST

Hearing of Charges Against Chief Set for Tuesday

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio — (United Press) — Special guards patrolled Ku Klux Klan headquarters today, as reports persisted that Indiana Klansmen are planning a demonstration to protest the arrest of W. M. Cotner, grand Kleagle and organizer, of Muncie.

Cotner is at liberty, under bond signed by George E. McCord, superintendent of schools, whose name was included in the alleged Klan roster confiscated by police in a raid on a Klan meeting.

McCord, however, denied he was connected with the Klan. Klan attorneys are here from Indianapolis and Columbus preparing for Cotner's preliminary hearing set for Tuesday. Cotner is charged with inciting a conspiracy.

POLICE CHARGES
Police Chief O'Brien declared evidence that the Klan planned acts of violence in connection with recent controversy over segregation of negroes and white children in the public schools was obtained by dictagraphs secretly placed in Klan headquarters.

Chief O'Brien declared he had received a series of unsigned warnings during the last 24 hours, threatening reprisals for the raid, and Cotner's arrest.

Prosecutor Atchison declared sensational evidence will be introduced at Cotner's preliminary hearing. Cotner denied the Klan had planned any violence. He severely arraigned Springfield police for the raid, declaring it to be unwarranted.

WOMAN IS SOUGHT IN MURDER

ARREST OF BAILIN IS ORDERED

Warrant Issued at Request of Detective Agency

CRIMINAL LIBEL CHARGED

Result of Testimony Accusing Sleuths of Frameup

(BY CHARLES R. LYNCH)

CHICAGO — (United Press) — The arrest of Albert J. Bailin, whose testimony in the Michigan deposition hearing here involved officials of the Burns and Thiel detective agencies, was ordered by police today.

A warrant for his arrest charging criminal libel, was issued by Judge Joseph Schulman on request of the Burns representatives. Bailin accused officials of the detective agencies with framing up radical activities in order to persuade bankers and business men to produce money for investigation purposes.

ANSWERS REFUSED
Following refusal of Bailin to answer questions regarding his alleged collection of anti-Jew information for Henry Ford's newspaper, the Dearborn Independent, Michigan authorities were undecided whether to continue the cross-examination today.

They intimated they might waive further questioning and proceed with the testimony of Allen O. Myers, head of the radical department of the Burns detective agency.

Myers was accused by Bailin as one of the leaders of creation of phantom radical organizations. The testimony will be used at the trial of alleged communists, captured in Michigan last fall. In refusing to answer questions relating to Ford, Bailin declared the subpoena on which he was ordered to appear specified he would only be questioned regarding matters preceding his arrest in 1920. Michigan authorities alleged that Bailin collected his anti-Jew information after that time.

Bailin also declined to answer questions as to whether he furnished information for articles by Norman Hapgood in Hearst's magazine, regarding the Dearborn Independent's "expose" of Jewish activities.

SHIP BILL GIVEN RIGHT OF WAY

Wins Privileged Status on Debt Measure's Passage

WASHINGTON — (Associated Press) — The administration shipping bill again led privileged status in the senate today after the passage last night of the British debt funding bill which now goes to conference.

The shipping measure was restored to its position as the unfinished business of the senate on motion of Senator Jones, Republican, Washington, who has it in charge, after a move for adjournment by Senator Robinson, Democrat, Arkansas, had been defeated, 38 to 30. This move, however, was not regarded as a test of strength on the bill since a number of senators on both sides were absent.

The debt bill was passed shortly after 7 o'clock last night by a vote of 70 to 13. Little difficulty is expected in conference, the senate's action being regarded as virtually completing congressional approval of the settlement of the $1,604,000,000 British debt, which was not affected by the amendments adopted.

JEALOUSY SEEN IN REMINGTON DEATH

Mysterious Killing of Los Angeles Clubman Probed

BODY FOUND NEAR HIS HOME

Gay Party on at Residence When Slain

LOS ANGELES — (United Press) — Jealousy or revenge was the motive for the murder of Earl E. Remington, aviator and wealthy clubman, whose body was found outside his home here, police believed today.

A woman was being sought in connection with the murder, following reports from Remington's neighbors that an automobile containing a woman and three men dashed by about the time Remington was killed.

Mrs. Remington, society leader and noted for her gay and brilliant gatherings, consulted an attorney about two weeks ago in connection with marital difficulties, it was learned.

FINDING OF BODY
Remington's body was found early yesterday near his home here. A bullet had pierced his head and body. A portfolio found nearby had one bullet hole, indicating Remington saw his assailant and attempted to protect himself with the thin leather case.

The Remington home was gaily lighted and Mrs. Remington was entertaining a few guests at the time her husband, an electrical engineer and former army aviator, was shot down.

The identification was made by Frank Barrett, Carmichael, actor and friend of the Schoellkopf and who was lost at the party which immediately preceded the robbery.

Telegraph Operator Crawls Half Mile With Broken Leg

ALL NIGHT WAIT FOR AID

Brought to City Hospital Here Early Saturday Morning

P. J. Banfill, 45, of Dunkirk, night operator at Dola, a little station on the Pennsylvania Railroad east of Lima narrowly escaped death shortly after 11 o'clock Friday night, when his speeder car was struck by a freight locomotive running backward. He was brought to City hospital here.

Banfill was on his way to Dola to take up his duties for the night, using a small speeder to cover the distance, when he noticed sparks dropping from a fire box, scarcely 100 feet ahead of him.

He said he could not see a light or hear a bell, but felt sure some where in the inky blackness of the night, a train was bearing down upon him.

Banfill jumped from the speeder and attempted to pull it from the tracks, out of the path of the locomotive when the crash came, completely demolishing the speeder. The accident occurred at a point between Dunkirk and Dola.

He fell backward, tripping over a rail, breaking his left leg below the knee, just as the engine, with its crew dumbfounded at what had happened, rushed by.

CROOKS TRAPPED BY OFFICIALS

Story of Robbery Clearing House Told at Cincinnati

DIRECTED FROM MINNEAPOLIS

Large Sums of Stolen Money Are Recovered

CINCINNATI — (United Press) — The government has recovered $80,000 identified as part of currency stolen in the $200,000 Denver mint robbery of two months ago. It was made known today when details of a scheme to outwit members of a gigantic clearing house for bank and mail robbers loot were made public.

In the ruse which tricked the crooks, bonds and securities valued at $80,000 obtained by bandits who robbed the Hamilton-co bank here of $267,000 last September were recovered.

BANK OFFICIALS AID
Postoffice inspectors, private detectives and bank officials collaborated in the tricking of the bandit loot ring.

Recovery of $1,000,000 more in negotiable bonds and securities, stolen in bank and postal robberies is expected.

An alleged stolen bond syndicate which had ramifications into all parts of the United States and Canada, was disclosed by the investigators. Its headquarters are said to have been in Minneapolis.

A round-up of leaders in the ring is expected to come at once. The ruse employed to trick the syndicate involved the beginning of negotiations of a supposed South Dakota banker who wanted to buy stolen securities to cover up a shortage of his bank. The negotiations resulted in the government getting hold of part of the Cincinnati and Denver loot.

Twins Power of Telepathy Baffles Skill of Physicians

ARE ILL AT THE SAME TIME

Have Same Likes and Dislikes Despite Different Environments

TUCSON, Ariz. — (Special) — A thin, unseen psychic thread of a maternal science cannot analyze, stretching across hundreds of miles of cities, rivers, forests and mountains.

For 30 years has bound together twin sisters, separated almost since their birth.

The twins are Mrs. Jessie Saunders, who lives here, and Miss Bessie M. Little of Chicago.

These twins have grown up under entirely different environments, have had different types of education and experience, have been entirely out of contact with each other.

Yet they have remained similar in appearance, mental traits, tastes, habits and ideals.

SHARE JOY, SORROW
When one is ill, the other seems always to share her suffering. When one is happy, her elation is passed on thru the invisible ethereal cord to the other.

The strange case has aroused the interest not only of students of heredity and environment but also that of believers in mental telepathy—radio of the mind.

Here is their story:
The twins were born to the Irwin family in the Black Hills. The mother died. The twins were given out for adoption when eight months old.

They never saw each other or even exchanged a letter till 1913. Since then they've been together two months in 1911, two months in 1912 and six months in 1914.

Bessie's foster parents moved to Helena, Mont. There she attended public school, business college and went to work in an office. She went to New York as a secretary, served in the office of the food administration, Washington, and went to France as a clerical employee of the Red Cross. She's now house manager of a Chicago hotel. She's unmarried.

Jessie, the other twin, went to country school, started training as a hospital nurse, suffered a physical breakdown, taught school, became a wife and mother. Now she's again teaching.

Those careers couldn't be much more dissimilar.

But—
"It's uncanny how we seem to be bound together by an invisible link," says Jessie now.

"When one of us is ill, we expect word of the other's illness—and almost always get it.

"We always seem to do identical things at the same time. For instance, recently we both had our hair bobbed, each without the other's knowledge.

"We both favor history, social study and politics. We both dislike mathematics.

"Friends find our twins' voices indistinguishable.

"Both are of the same height and weight.

"They can wear each other's clothes.

"So, what counts most—heredity or environment?"

MORE RELATIVES OF EARL E. JAMES FOUND
Other relatives of Earl E. James are coming forward to break the loneliness of hospital life for a disabled war veteran.

Earl James, war veteran and former inmate of the Allen-C. Children's home, was separated from his brothers and sisters in 1905.

19 INDICTED BY GRAND JURY

Eleven Held Secret—Eight Accused Are in Custody

Eleven persons were secretly indicted by the Allen-C. grand jury, which made its report Friday night after a session of two days.

More than 50 witnesses were examined in the two days and 36 cases were investigated. Indictments were returned in 19 cases. Six cases were dismissed and 11 were continued until the next term.

Warrants for the 11 secret indictments were placed in Sheriff Harvey D. Crosson's hands Friday night, for service. Several arrests are expected soon, Crosson indicated.

Eight public indictments returned concern prisoners already in custody.

"They are Clarence M. Dehne and Cliff Morton, for non-support of wife and children, Robert Fraser, bigamy; Sholly Judy, larceny; Wilfred Smith, forgery and uttering a false check; Alva Phillips, felonious assault; Charles T. Light, burglary and larceny on two counts.

Alva Phillips was indicted for attempted rape by the September grand jury on testimony of Zelma Lippincott, 12. The present jury re-indicted him on a lesser charge, leaving the former charge stand.

Arrangement of the eight men under indictment will be made before Judge Fred C. Becker early in the week.

GIRLS ARE SOLD TO HIGHEST BIDDER

Traffic in Chinese Young Women in U. S. Revealed

BRING $2,000 TO $6,000

San Francisco is Declared Chief Slave Market

SAN FRANCISCO — (Special) — Every horror of the slave trade in Chinese girls, which has resulted in several indictments here, is epitomized in the experiences of Lim Tsuei, a slave recently rescued.

Of the thousands of girls who have been bought in China and brought to this country, Lim Tsuei is the first to tell her story for publication. Fear of the long man's gun or work have sealed the lips of others.

Lim Tsuei's story was obtained by Fred V. Williams, whose exposure of the slave trade in his new novel, "Silver Flower," has created a furor on the Pacific Coast.

(BY FRED V. WILLIAMS)
The story of Lim Tsuei is the story of 75 per cent of the Chinese slave girls in America.

Livery liner that ploughs thru the Golden Gate from the orient brings its quota. They land here as "merchants' wives" and soon are swallowed in the Chinese underworld.

San Francisco is the chief slave market. Girl slaves are literally sold to the highest bidder. Their "customers" take them wherever they please.

PRICES PAID
In China their prices range from $50 to $200. Here they bring from $200 to $6,000. As a girl grows older or loses her health her value decreases. In the meantime she must earn back her price—and a profit.

At the immigration station on Angel Island there are today 45 Chinese girls. Tomorrow a boat will leave as many more. Some of them are fated for shame and suffering. Where are they going? What will become of them?

These questions are answered by Lim Tsuei.

"I was kidnapped from my home in the Kwang Tung province in China by bandits. They sold me for $250 to a woman in Canton who kept me as a servant until I was 15.

"Then I was sold for $100 to a dealer in slave girls. I begged her not to send me into the resorts of Hongkong, to which shipments of girls were made from her house each week.

"This woman said she would find me a rich husband from America. I was very happy. He came in the person of a 'Mr. Lee' from San Francisco. Mr. Lee paid $200 and took me before the American consulate at Canton where we were married. My husband was American born and carried citizenship papers.

"I had no idea that anything but a happy home awaited me. My husband left me when the steamer docked in San Francisco and said he would call for me. I never saw him again.

"I learned afterward that he was a highlander and that he had received $700 to marry me and bring me to this country.

"I was at the immigration station two months when a white attorney called for me with landing papers. He said he would take me to my husband.

TOLD HER DOOM
"I took me in a closed cab to Chinatown and left me in charge of an old woman. When I asked for my husband she laughed and said 'there was no husband.'

"The old woman brought me a bundle of clothes and ordered me to put them on. Then she told me my doom.

"I have paid altogether $2600 for you, and I must get it back," she said. She promised I could buy my freedom by earning this amount.

"That night I refused to work. The old woman beat me terribly and locked me up in a dark room with rats. By morning I was so terrified I agreed to obey her in everything.

"My first owner sold me in six months. My second owner told me that he had paid $4000 for me and before I could go free I must earn that amount.

"Frequently I was told I would be killed by the highlanders if I ran away.

"These things belonged to tongue. It was the duty of the highlanders to guard us. There have been many cases where slave girls have been murdered when they tried to flee.

"I became ill and began to lose my beauty. My owner, a member of the On Yick Tong, shipped me to Stockton. A highlander of the Suez Sing Tong fished me and one night at the point of a gun he kidnapped me and took me back to San Francisco.

"The On Yick Tong threatened war with the Suez Sing Tong if the kidnaper did not return me or pay for me. A Buddhist priest in Chinatown helped raise the money and took a part ownership in me. Thereafter I worked for two owners.

"My earnings in six years as a slave girl had exceeded $18,000. All of which I turned over. There are hundreds of girls like me, bought and sold, body and soul."

NEAR ZERO IS SUNDAY OUTLOOK

Optimists who had it doped out that the cold wave was due to sneak away into oblivion by Saturday were disagreeably surprised when the weatherman loosed his prediction during the morning.

Get what he says: "Local shows this afternoon and tonight. Coldier tonight. Sunday generally fair and somewhat colder. Temperature near zero in north portion Sunday morning."

That's emphatic enough to suit most anyone, so it is. Having recently developed the habit of getting on his predictions in advance of the time they were due, the forecaster wasn't surprised when snow began to fall Saturday morning.

The attitude of the general public toward the forecaster and the results of his predictions continue normal, in spite of the circumstances. The average citizen is resigned to the vagaries of the weather just the same as he is toward the mandate to pay taxes.

$100,000 VALUE PUT ON LOVE
Circus Man's Wife Sues for Alienation of Affections

LOS ANGELES — (Associated Press) — The affections of Al C. Barnes Stonehouse, known in circles as "Al C. Barnes," are valued at $100,000 in a suit on file in court here today by his wife, Sarah Jane Stonehouse against seven persons whom she accused of alienating his love.

Albert T. Stonehouse, her brother, his wife Theresa; Richard Rastved, her husband's attorney, H. S. Steyer, Murray A. Pennock and William K. Peck circus attaches, and W. V. Hill, her husband's friend.

She alleged the defendants opposed her marriage to Stonehouse and after the ceremony did everything in their power to induce him to leave her.

Stonehouse filed suit for divorce at Las Vegas, Nevada, more than two months ago charging she chased him about the circus lot, tried to run over him with an automobile and taught his children to swear. She is his second wife.

SENATOR WITNESS IN $500 SUIT
Homer Raney, Toledo, Testifies in Morphis-Trubey Case

State Senator Homer J. Raney, of Toledo, who accompanied Sadie Morphis to Lima the day $500 was given to L. R. Trubey as a security against loss in the Louis Morphis case, was a material witness for Trubey in court late Friday, in the suit for $500 against him.

Raney told of his visit to Trubey's office and of a trip to the Klinger farm north of the city, to see Judge William Klinger about bond.

Judge Klinger asked the bond at $500, Raney said. Trubey asked the judge for a note to the clerk, stating the amount.

"That's all right," Judge Klinger is alleged to have said to Trubey. "Your word is good."

While Raney was in Trubey's office, he is going into a private room. When they came out, he told him he would protect him on fees, Raney declared.

It was during this conference that Mrs. Morphis is alleged to have told Trubey to go to the limit with the case, as she was sure it was a frameup between the Toledo police and prosecutor's office.

When on the stand earlier in the day Mrs. Morphis had stated that at no time had she and Louis Morphis talked with Trubey, save in the presence of Raney.

Altho no indication has been given, it is believed in administration circles that President Harding will accept the resignation, which suggested April 1 as the effective date.

DUKE IS LINKED TO HOUSE OF SMITH

King George's Second Son to Wed in Great Family

LIMIT PUT ON ATTENDANCE
Only 2,000 Will be Invited to Wedding

(BY P. M. SARK)
LONDON—(United Press)—The well known Smith family scored a great social triumph over the betrothal of Lady Elizabeth Bowes-Lyon to the Duke of York, King George's second son.

The Bowes-Lyon family is closely allied to all the ancient hatched families in the peerage, but Lady Elizabeth's grandmother was a common or garden Smith, daughter of a wealthy Kent squire named Oswald Smith—without hyphens or excuse of any kind.

Hence every British Smith, and possibly some Americans will be able to point proudly to their relation having married the Duke of York.

A word of warning from the action at Westminster Abbey. The Abbey cannot possibly hold more than five or six thousand people and not more than 2,000 will be invited to the wedding. Hence Smiths are advised to postpone bookings and hotel reservations until they receive their card of invitation.

The Earl of Strathmore's family are not unduly puffed up about Lady Elizabeth being betrothed to a royal Duke. Way back in 1372, Sir John Lyon, founder of the Strathmore family, married Princess Jane, daughter of King Robert II of Scotland. Later the Lyons hatched themselves with the Bowes, and becoming Lords of Glamis, took a big share in the government of Scotland, standing behind the Kings of their day and practically ruling the country.

Glamis (pronounced Ghlams) Castle, the ancestral home of Lady Elizabeth Bowes-Lyon, is one of the most famous of Britain's feudal castles, and is reputed to have more authentic ghosts to the square foot than any existing building of its type. In the wild and savage warfare of the Middle Ages, innumerable dark deeds were done in the grim fortress, much of which still stands. Shakespeare stages his tragedy of "Macbeth" and the murder of King Duncan at Glamis, although the actual history places the monarch's death some 300 years before there is any official record of Glamis Castle.

GHOSTLY GAMBLERS
In one room two ghostly gamblers play cards and re-enact a long-forgotten tragedy one night every year. The rattling of dice, oaths, struggle and shriek of the victim are alleged to be heard on the anniversary and the Glamis domestics carefully avoid the gloomy corridors when the half-devil, half-human gambler "walks" to celebrate his crime.

The most famous tradition of Glamis is the "Mystery Room," the actual location whereof is known only to the Earls of Strathmore, their heirs and a trusted enchanter known as the "Factor." Why the grim secret is so closely guarded is unknown, and there are innumerable fables as to the room's past and its waiting up of the room. The most popular story is that some wild and woolly Lyons captured members of the rival Ogilvy family and locked them up in the room to stare to death.

Another of Glamis' ghosts is "a human toad, endowed with immortality," while Macbeth's Witches are credited with having used the castle for their infernal practices. Glamis was a stronghold as far back as the thirteenth century, and receipt excavations revealed the presence of hitherto unknown passages and niches within the thickness of the walls. Hence, doubtless the origin of stories of secret chambers. Patrick Lyon, one of the family ancestors, was created Baron Glamis in 1445. The Baron Glamis of 1537 was sentenced to death for the crime of slaying King James V. of Scotland, but was proved innocent and released.

BURNED AS A WITCH
His wife, however, was burned as a witch at Edinburgh and is alleged to haunt the castle. In 1677 the holder of the Glamis barony was created Earl of Strathmore and Kinghorne, and the Glamis title is now used by the eldest son and heir.

The Kinghorne of 1745 was a prominent supporter of "Bonnie Prince Charlie" and was killed in the Jacobite rising of that year. One of the treasured possessions of the family is the sword of John Graham of Claverhouse, "Bonnie Dundee."

The Bowes-Lyon family have long been famous warriors, and for many years have been associated with the crack highland regiments known as the "Black Watch." The present Earl of Strathmore is an ex-colonel, his heir, Lord Glamis, a major, and two other sons also served with the regiment in the great war—one being killed. Lord Glamis has a family of five, so will doubtless need the greater part of the family fortune to keep up his position on succeeding to the earldom. However, despite his extensive family, Strathmore has a sufficiently large bank roll to provide a satisfactory dowry for his youngest daughter, even when she married a royal duke.

Lady Elizabeth is 22, thus five years younger than the Duke of York. An exceedingly pretty girl, if not perhaps a studio beauty, she was the most marked of Princess Mary's bridesmaids last year. She is a great sportswoman, and something of a "blue-stocking" for the speaks several languages fluently. However, like most of her family, she is no publicity-hunter, being rather shy. It is said that the Duke of York had to propose three times before she accepted him; her reasons for refusing twice being that she did not feel capable of undertaking the duties and responsibilities of sister-in-law to the future King of England.

The Duke of York is regarded as the most studious of the royal family, and he has taken tremendous interest in all matters affecting industry and commerce. His intimates aver that if it were not for his position he would go into business—something in the mechanical line. He is an expert motorist and motor mechanic, as well as a fully qualified aerial pilot and a plane mechanic. His rank of wing commander in the Royal Air Force is no complimentary honor, for he is a skilled and enthusiastic aviator, and keeps his own private aeroplane.

Originally entered in the navy, he was a midshipman at the outbreak of the great war, but an operation for appendicitis kept him out of active hostilities for a while. Among his men he was known as "Mr. Johnson"—and to his brother officers "Johnson"—as the result of an amusing mistake made by the captain-keeper on the fleet's storeroom. The captain, seeing the Prince among a group of midshipmen making purchases, sang out "Now then, Mr. Johnson, keep your hands in your pockets and keep whistling all the time you are in this store. If you keep whistling, you can't eat anything, and with both hands in your pockets, you can't steal anything."

At the battle of Jutland, he was a sub-lieutenant on the battleship Iron Duke, and was promoted to full lieutenant after the battle.

MEXICO TO WORK OUT OWN FATE

Progress Doesn't Depend on U. S. Recognition, He Says

WON'T ALTER CONSTITUTION
Obregon Refuses to Meet Washington Requirement

(BY FREDERICK G. NEUMEIER)
MEXICO CITY — (United Press)

—Mexico has decided to work out its own salvation without the "paternal blessing of the state department in Washington."

I learned this authoritatively from a very high official of the Obregon government.

This official informed me that Mexico does not have the intention to reform Articles 27 and 123 of the famous Mexican constitution or the agrarian law to meet the requirements of recognition as laid down by Secretary Hughes.

The Mexican government, he stated, understands thoroughly that while Hughes is secretary of state there can be no recognition until these legislative changes have been effected.

The government, he added, believes on a fifty-fifty basis that it is capable of effecting economic rehabilitation without recognition, in other words that recognition is not at all necessary for Mexico to progress.

MAY APPEAL TO LIBERALS
Diplomatically, thru the White House, this official stated, the Obregon government would do nothing.

However he did intimate that the Mexican people would appeal direct to the people in the United States and to the "liberal" bloc of senators recently elected to the United States Senate.

President Obregon took the office of presidency over two years ago after being elected by a majority of about twenty-four to one.

Today I find this country at peace although economic conditions may be considered serious. Expenses are being reduced and the army has been cut out as recently pointed out to me by General Calles, prime minister to Obregon, "the entire country is working." Calles continued:

"Farmers are not turning their plow shares into swords, but just the opposite—they are turning their swords into plow shares."

The high government official quoted above, who is not Calles, would not allow his name used for obvious reasons, gave me a very interesting inside view of the Obregon regime. He said:

"When Obregon became president and for some time after holding that office, his only love affair, his lone passion, his infatuation, was that with Dams Recognition. He was ready to do everything that he could for this love affair. He expelled labor leaders, ousted what was termed radical governors, wobbled from side to side and never made a straight answer. To his fellow revolutionists who fought with him, his actions caused only wonderment. Obregon takes stand."

"Later after the decisions on Article 27 and after Hughes had made the demands for legislative reforms, Obregon took a radical stand. He took the position which the farmers and workers wanted. His 'no' to M. Hughes was a 'yes' to his followers. Obregon took the stand that part of Article 27 could not be changed, leaving the other part untouched and when he turned down Hughes' proposal, he had to come out flat-footed for the agrarian reforms. He found that in Mexico the church did not draw any line of demarcation between its religious, political and social activities."

"It wasn't until the now famous Murguia revolution that the lines were tightly drawn. At one time this revolution looked, according to press reports, as a serious action against the Obregon government but it ended only to strengthen the Obregon government. The country was not ripe for revolution, the people were satisfied. The peasants and the laboring people really made the capture of Murguia possible. They in a secret underground way which they had learned during the Carranza revolution, communicated with the federal troops and told them of the march of Murguia.

WORKERS TOOK ACTION
The peasants and the workers continually were on the watch for Murguia. When Murguia was sighted by a priest in a church, the peasants and workers immediately took action which resulted in the capture and execution of the counter-revolutionary leader.

"It was then that Obregon saw who his friends were. He realized that in order not to suffer the same fate as Madero, who made overtures to the reactionaries, he must overcome the reactionaries and stand by the people who fought with him."

I also find among a certain class of Mexicans that there is a strong impression that the action of President Harding and Hughes in the Mexican question is uniting the Mexican radicals.

ABATEMENT OF INFLUENZA EPIDEMIC IN OHIO SHOWN

COLUMBUS — Abatement of the influenza epidemic in Ohio, during the first two weeks in February, as compared with the last two weeks in January is indicated according to reports to the state department of health, made public today.

There were 912 cases reported as against 1,261 for the last two weeks of January. According to reports the disease is more prevalent in the southern part of the state than in the northern part. Owing to the fact that all doctors have not reported cases, these figures probably represent only a small part of the total number of cases in the state.

BEHOLD, MYSTERY!

WHAT was the most beautiful thing you ever saw? Maybe it was the love light in a woman's eyes, a baby's smile or a sunrise.

Great artists agree that the most beautiful thing in nature is the aurora borealis—northern lights, so gorgeous in their coloring and so swiftly changing that no artist has ever been able to "catch them on canvas" except as a rather pathetic counterfeit.

In the above pen-picture by artist Satterfield, you see a fur-clad traveler in the northern Yukon. He has stopped his dogs and is motionless on his sledge, filled with an infinite awe as he watches the aurora borealis. The light formation in the picture is known as the "Corona." In a twinkling it will change to "the dancers," "the searchlight," "the sheet" or "the rippling curtains."

The man on the sledge wonders what makes the northern lights. No scientist is certain. Some think it is electrical phenomena, others believe it is due to reflection of sunlight on polar ice.

The scientists cannot even fully define color, light or electricity, though they understand how these curious things operate and how they are conveyed to our minds. Nor can the scientists tell us the inner secret of the snow that surrounds the northern traveler. They say that snow is water crystallized at a certain low temperature. What is water? Oxygen and hydrogen, answer the scientists. They are silent when you ask, "What are hydrogen and oxygen?"

Man is an explorer, seeking final truth. His knowledge gets just so far, then runs into an impenetrable wall. We observe the processes by which millions of things happen, but cannot see behind the veil.

Education is the process of increasing our conception of our stupendous ignorance—of teaching us the infinite extent of what we do not know and never can, this side of the grave.

X-RAY

IN Germany, scientists turn out to the funeral of Prof. William Conrad Röntgen, discoverer of the uncanny magic popularly known as the X-ray.

You know all about the X-ray, what it does, how it makes the flesh transparent and shows bones and such things as need be buried in the body. One hundred years ago they would have been confined, in a lunatic asylum, any man who claimed he had an apparatus for seeing thru the human body. We've progressed.

The X-ray is nearest to the supernatural, of anything ever discovered by man. But it is only an inkling of greater uncanny inventions that lie ahead. Scientists are our real leaders. A few hundred of them, living and dead, regulate most of our actions.

ENGINEERS

RAILROAD engineers, builders of vast industrial empires, announce that the railroad line which eventually will enable people to go by train from New York to Buenos Aires is 65 per cent completed. That's a trip of 10,116 miles, and you can take a train over 6500 miles of it now.

Before this road is completed, the world may be selling its railroads to the junkman and handling its passengers, express and freight by airship. That's an ultimate certainty. It can't come overnight.

—Aroused from sweet sleep. By Jacinto, the chambermaid. Inquiring should he draw my bath. And this only Thursday. So, Jacinto to brot radishes, bacon and porridge. The mercury 72 degrees, as out for a stroll.

Thru the twelve-foot streets, to the nauseating smell of alcohol. Not tumble, but internal combustion. The odors of the Ford radiators. You have read much about this Brotherhood of Man dope. Where you need to practice it. Is, when you give a Spanish-speaking taxi driver your destination. They all understand you want to ride, but they show no interest in where you want to get out. Albeit, I did fifty percent better than when here before. And lost only one fender, instead of two.

Auntie May me was a good sailor.

While sharks got in my dreams the night thru. In the morning I found her on the boat deck singing. "My Breakfast Lies Under the Ocean." There is nothing off the hip, in this town. And Otis Lipplucott would starve to death, unless he started a dairy. Even Pusyfoot Johnson couldn't get anybody into the hall, but the janitor.

Boys in their teens on the streets, selling Government lottery tickets. A woman with a middle-aged spread from Saginaw, Mich., and wearing well-carved lips. Won the capital prize last drawing. She got one-twentieth of $300,000. Yet, hardened wretch, plans to use the money to amend the Cuban constitution, making lotteries illegal hereafter.

Lunched, at the Telografo cafe, on a quail sandwich, with a bot of brewed mineral. Having seen the churches and cemetery, hoisted Auntie May-me to a rubber neck.

YOUR SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Prepared for The Lima News by Rev. Hugh T. Stevenson

Our Lord had reached Jericho. Jerusalem, where His enemies were thirsting for His blood, was within striking distance for it was only about twenty miles away. He had left Perea behind, when he crossed the Jordan about six miles back. His advance toward Jericho had been halted by the cry of the blind beggar, Bartimeus, asking that He would have mercy upon Him. His disciples had tried in vain to silence the beggar, who shouted "the more a great deal," when they rebuked him. The Master heard his cry and healed him. The news of the miracle spread like wild fire thru the famous city, which was a commercial, political and religious center.

JESUS AND ZACCHAEUS.
—Luke 19:1-10.
Golden Text.—The Son of man came to seek and to save that which was lost.—Luke 19:10.

It is described at the time of our Lord's visit as being "a famous stronghold, surrounded by towers and castles, with a great palace built by Archelaus, the son of Herod, in the midst of groves of palm trees, balsam gardens, and streams of water. It was near a very fertile plain, and stood where the common caravan roads met, and had great commerce. Its chief article of export was balsam, the metals were found in its neighborhood. Its commercial importance made it one of the chief seats of the Roman customs-houses. Zacchaeus, the Collector of Customs in that city, having charge of the work of the tax collectors in that region, is the only person, besides Bartimeus, whose name has been handed down to us as being members of the great crowd that welcomed the Master to Jericho, which was Jerusalem's Palm Beach, being especially attractive in the winter season because of its climate.

Probably Zacchaeus would never have been known if he had not heard the story Christ's miraculous healing of the blind beggar. Although it is possible that this rich religious renewed may have heard of the Lord's attitude of friendship to the publicans, who were despised and hated by Jewish people who considered that they were traitors to their religion and race. The tax collector is never popular. Also others despised them and ostracized them. Jesus was known as "the friend of publicans and sinners." Possibly it may have been curiosity on the part of the Collector of Customs, that prompted him to try and see Jesus, as He passed thru the city.

THE SEEKING SINNER.
Zacchaeus met with great difficulty in his effort to "see Jesus who he was" for the multitude refused to let the small and energetic publican push his way thru their midst so that he could see the great Healer. They pushed him to one side and called him every mean term they could think of that would be appropriate for a Jew, whose grasping desire for gaining gold had moved him to betray his countrymen by bidding in the privilege of taxing. The man, who bought the taxing privilege, when it was "farmed out" usually squeezed all he could out of the people.

Difficulties did not stop the unpopular publican for he persisted in his efforts to see Jesus. While he did not know that this was his last chance as Jesus never passed that way again, nevertheless Zacchaeus revealed decision, initiative and persistence in his efforts to overcome that physical and mechanical problems that prevented him from seeing the Master. His pride and public position appeared to him to demand that he see the noted Prophet of Nazareth, whose fame had preceded him. He would not allow the prejudices of the multitude to hinder him. He could not get thru the crowd but he could get ahead of it. He put on speed until he reached to a sycamore tree, whose leaves he thought would hide him and its limbs give a position of advantage, so that he could see Jesus as He passed by on His way to Jerusalem. While he may have been moved by curiosity, when he started to see the Lord, Zacchaeus knew that he would never have made such an effort for an ordinary rabbi. He probably did not realize that his earnest effort was prompted by a spiritual longing to know Christ. He may not have thought that the Master would detect his presence. He wanted to see Him for riches gave the publican no peace. He was dissatisfied with his life and the germ of his salvation was present in his desire to see the Lord. If anything is interfering with our getting in the proper position so that we can see Jesus, we need to be encouraged by the success of Zacchaeus to master our difficulties and make them stepping stones by which we can climb into His fellowship.

THE SEEKING SAVIOUR.
Our Lord still yearns to save the rich with their tainted money and the poor with their tainted souls as He did when here among men. He came to seek and to save that which was lost. He never missed an opportunity to win a sinner or save a soul. The crowd that followed Jesus, as He drew near to the tree, where Zacchaeus awaited His coming, would have said that the publican was hopeless. They would have ridiculed the idea that the immoral, reckless and treacherous Collector of Customs would be saved. Not so the Master. He saw more than the resourcefulness of the rich publican, who had correctly guessed the route Christ would take for Jesus saw the spiritual unrest of Zacchaeus. He saw the small man's need and the longing of the publican's heart.

It is quite possible that the Master's attention was directed to the publican by the mocking jeers of the crowd, whose shouts may have revealed to Jesus the man up in the tree and his name. This is an important incident the fact that the Saviour stopped and called Zacchaeus by name is the significant truth. He knew his hunger for God and made a bold move when he commanded the publican to come down. Jericho was the home of many prominent priests and religious leaders. His decision to lodge with the Collector of Customs would serve to increase their hostility and antagonism. Jesus did not hesitate to reach down and lift Zacchaeus up by lodging at the rich man's home.

The publican would have hesitated to ask the Master to be his guest. No few would have entered his home. All the manhood, gratitude and spiritual longing of the publican's soul responded immediately to the Lord's overture. He was without doubt surprised that Jesus had in place of rebuking and criticizing him treated him as a friend and brother. Everybody else had withdrawn from him as a social outcast. They pay the taxes when they were compelled to do so, but no one in that vast crowd following Jesus, not even his disciples, would have thought of accepting the publican's hospitality. The effect was electrical. Society was shocked at the actions of Christ, whose desire and power to save reaches out in an effort to save the hopeless ones without regard to the criticisms and murmuring of ecclesiastical formalists. Christ's methods cannot be justified to any set form of ceremony. He will save all who joyfully will seek, as the publican did, to do the Lord's will.

SAVIOUR SAVES SINNER.
Jesus won Zacchaeus by asking him to do a favor. The publican agreed to the honor that the Lord was bestowing upon him. He was all broken up by the Master's treatment of him. This made him ready for the gospel. His repentance was genuine. He proved by his confession of being unworthy of receiving the Lord into his home. The angry sneers of the Jews, who were put out because Christ had not acted in accordance with their prejudices, and the murmuring of the disappointed social leaders, who disliked Zacchaeus being honored before them had filled the air with charges that the publican was an extortioner. He vindicated himself when he said in defense that he was not grasping money shark that they charged. Pentecost claims that he virtually said "I give away the half of my yearly income to the poor; and if I find that in the collection of taxes, I have wronged any man, I restore it fourfold." The Moslem law demanded that a thief caught in the act should give back tenfold but in cases, such as Zacchaeus pointed out, he would only be called upon to return the principal and twenty per cent interest.

There is a lesson here for the modern grafter and profiteer. No man can purchase salvation. Repentance, faith and confession are the three steps to secure salvation according to the New Testament. Charity and restitution may be fruits of a religious life but nothing except the blood of Jesus can remove the taint of sin from a human soul. If any man wishes salvation to come to his house let him seek the Lord. The Lord who confirmed the salvation of Zacchaeus by assuring him publicly that this day is salvation came to this house. Let all who read these words accept Christ, as joyfully as Zacchaeus accepted Him, and enlist in His service to do His will and work in the world.

THE GRIP EPIDEMIC

How To Dodge It and What To Do If You Already Have It

If you are over-tired, weak or run-down, you catch cold easily. If you have a cold, it is easy for grip to take hold. If you have the grip, it may easily lead to pneumonia, and that often ends fatally.

So first of all do not allow yourself to get run-down or weakened. Build up new strength by taking Father John's Medicine, which gives health resistance to overcome disease.

But if you have a cold, do not neglect it. Begin taking Father John's Medicine right away. It is the logical, safe way to treat a cold and has proven its value by more than 67 years success.

A mild attack of grip will usually yield to Father John's Medicine, but the getting-well stage is the danger point. It is then that the body, weakened by the grip germs, is open to attack by many other lurking diseases. These poisons must be driven from the system and Father John's Medicine is most effective by means of its laxative effect and because of its strength-giving, health-building, tissue-forming elements.

Remember, Father John's Medicine is a pure, wholesome food. Guaranteed absolutely free from opium, morphine, heroin, cocaine or any other dangerous drugs or alcohol. Get the large size—it contains more than twice the small size.—Adv.

CITY CAGE TITLE HONORS EVENED, ST. ROSE LOSES

SOUTH CAPTURES THRILLING GAME

(BY MERRICK M. HILL)

City scholastic basketball honors for the present season were evened Friday night, when South avenged the defeat two weeks ago and nosed out Central 23 to 18.

The game, which was one of the fastest ever staged for the delectation of cage fans, abounded in thrills. From the first whistle until the final gun, there never was a dead moment in the play and the South gymnasium was a bedlam of cheering.

Because of the small size of the gym and because such an enormous crowd was expected the doors were opened at 5:30 p. m. and two preliminary games played before the main event of the evening took the floor at 7:30 p. m. When the game started close to 1,000 fans were packed in the bleachers and balcony, and every possible vantage point was occupied by spectators, who, seemingly, were all partisans.

Central went into the fray with the edge because of the showing last week against Springfield and Dayton. Stivers and also because Central captured the first of the city series. South, with a complete reversal of form over their game a week ago, were at the best form of the year.

Following the victory last night, which ties up the cage title series, it was announced that it would be impossible to arrange a third game to definitely decide the championship. The only possible chance of the teams meeting again this season is at the Bluffton tournament in two weeks.

Winegardner, South center, drew first blood in the battle by hopping a header during the first minute of play. From then on until the end of the half, Central and then South would score and at the end of the half, the score tied.

During the second session, the lead saw-sawed back and forth until the last few minutes of play, when South spurred into a five-point margin—the largest lead of the game. South's small court was puzzling to Central for a few minutes at the start of the game, and during the contest, it was apparent that their offensive plays were planned for larger courts. The biggest advantage which the floor gave South was the Blue and Gold cages know the baskets and backboards and were able to play them to the limit.

George Williams was the outstanding performer of the evening. Besides wing four baskets, Williams won upon every play and was responsible for breaking up a score of Central's formations. Winegardner also starred for South, his floor work being of a very high grade.

Seely, Central captain and center, Burdette and Swisher, Central guards, deserve equal honors for the wonderful game they played. The three-man defense, which stopped any number of South offenses was extremely difficult to break thru.

Lineup and summary:

STAPLETON IS IN MONEY

TOLEDO — Two new teams pointed their way into the list of leaders in the five-man division in the Ohio State Bowling Tournament here last night.

The Red-Wing Ice Cream outfit of Dayton took third place by hanging up a total of 2,894 pins and the Delphos Lake Yacht Club, Columbus, with a score of 2,798 occupied fourth position. The Perfection Pins of Cleveland collected 2,772 pins which gave them ninth place in this division. Renn-Renn combination of Toledo took fifth place in the doubles with a score of 1,198 and G. Meister, Toledo, went into fourth place in the individuals with a score of 644. E Stapleton of Lima landed seventh place in the singles with a score of 632 and R. Baker of Bellefontaine took eighth place in this division with a total of 627 pins.

Bowlers from Dayton, Cleveland, Ellyria, Columbus, Akron, Delphos and Cincinnati will occupy the playoffs today.

PUBLIC COURSE BOARD MEETS

The movement to provide a public golf course for Lima gained added impetus Friday night at the meeting of the Lima Club-citizens committee at the Board of Commerce auditorium.

Four possible sites, which are suitable both as to location and to playability, were described at the meeting and a committee consisting of Charles Daly, George Bayly and Simon Fisher, was named to investigate and report on the advantages of each site at a meeting during the coming week.

Following the report of the site committee, the proper method of financing the course will be discussed. City Manager Bingham announced that inasmuch as the city would be unable to assist in financing the movement, that the course should be the property of the Community Golf Course. An idea was unanimously adopted.

Next week we will sell the best grades of Pine Apple, Peaches, Pears, Plums, Raspberries, Corn, Peas, Tomatoes and Cabbage at extremely low price with the price of all such goods advancing every day at Dorsey's.

SPEEDY ICE SKATERS BREAK THREE WORLD RECORDS OF LONG STANDING

The ice speedsters refuse to take a back seat when it comes to smashing records.

At the recent skating meet at Endicott City, N. Y., three new world's records were made, two of them by the fair sex.

Donald Baker of Brooklyn covered 150 yards in 14-5 seconds, breaking a record that has been on the books for 40 years. The old mark was 15-7-3 seconds, made by George D. Phillips in 1883.

Miss Gladys Robinson of Toronto, in a mile event with Miss Rosa

Johnson established a new mark of 3 minutes 55-5 seconds for the distance, beating the old mark by 2-1-5 seconds.

Miss Elsie Mueller broke the record for 220 yards by negotiating the distance in 23-1-5 seconds, bettering the old mark by 4-5 of a second.

CUBS START TREK TO SPRING CAMP

CHICAGO — Fires began flickering out in the Stove League today with the departure of the Chicago Nationals for their spring training camp—the first of the major league clubs in the west to start preparation for the 1923 pennant race. The Cubs will establish camp on Catalina Island sixty miles off Los Angeles, Calif.

Meanwhile, other major league clubs in the west are dusting off bat bags and packing uniforms in preparation for busy campaigns. The Chicago White Sox have arranged to leave for their spring camp at Seguin, Texas, a week from Monday while the St. Louis Browns will get away for Mobile Ala., on the same day. The Cardinals of St. Louis will entrain for their camp at Bradenton, Fla., February 24.

Tins Speaker, manager of the Cleveland Indians, has ordered his players to report at Lakeland, Fla. on March 1. Some of the Indians, however, already are in training at Hot Springs, Ark., preliminary to invading Florida for the real practice season.

Ty Cobb plans to have his Detroit crew in camp at Macon, Ga., by March 1 while the Cincinnati players under the direction of the veteran Pat Moran will assemble March 3 for the dash to Orlando Fla.

DAVE DANFORTH IS BANE OF AMERICAN LEAGUE UMPIRES

ST. LOUIS — Dave Danforth will again be a member of the St. Louis pitching staff in the coming campaign, for a time at least.

Dave Danforth is the mystery man of baseball, an eyesore to every American League umpire.

American League umpires credit Danforth with being able to do more tricks with a baseball than Willie Hopper can do with the ivories. In other words, Danforth, in the eyes of Ban Johnson, is always trying to fool the umpires as well as the batters.

Last year Danforth was suspended for 10 days on complaint of Umpire "Brick" Owens, who caught Dave doctering the ball, so it is alleged.

Jack M'Auliffe Being Groomed As Rival To Dempsey

DETROIT — Detroit has visions of another world's heavyweight champion pugilist. A big fellow, who is at present being groomed to take the place once occupied in the realm of listiana by its other native son, Tommy Burns.

The chap referred to is Jack M'Auliffe, protégé of Mark Shaughnessy, who in the two years he has been in the game has come to the front with such rapid strides that he already looms up as one of the most dangerous men in the division. M'Auliffe has all the requisites that go to make a real fighter. He is a young giant, standing 6 feet 11 inch, and weighs 200 pounds. He is only 22 years old, but is a marvel of physical perfection. For a big fellow he is exceptionally fast, and he has the tremendous shoulders of the athlete and the tapering waist. His chest is larger, when expanded, than that of Jess Willard, despite the fact that the former champion outweighs him by 50 pounds.

M'Auliffe is also the possessor of an exceedingly long left arm, which is said by critics to be the fastest and sturdiest left in heavyweight circles. Certainly it is the longest, longer even than the well-known reach of Willard.

M'Auliffe is also a sleep-producing punch, but he gained the verdict in six rounds.

With the exception of Tom O'Neil, who managed to last seven sessions, most of M'Auliffe's opponents have hit the canvas after two or three rounds of battling. All told his 16 bouts have averaged but a bit more than three rounds to the fight. A most remarkable record considering the class of men to

The incident not only caused Danforth to be suspended, but drove him to the minors. Sent to Tulsa, in the Western League, he finished in fine style.

Danforth has been brought back to the big show because the Browns need a southpaw. What will be his fate?

Danforth has good speed, always posed at four curves and a good slow ball. He really has enough stuff to get by on without resorting to tickery, but Dave at times can't see it that way.

Last season he pitched a number of games in which the umpires gave him a clean bill of health, but he was unable to stand prosperity and soon went back to his old ways.

has met, and the short time he has been at the game.

No less an authority than Jim Corbett declares that M'Auliffe seems certain to reach the heights of pugilistic fame within the next two years. "I believe," says Corbett, "that, barring accidents, M'Auliffe will be the champion of the world. He has everything necessary—youth, speed, boxing cleverness, strength, health and courage. He is the fastest and cleverest big man I have ever seen." And coming from a man like Corbett that's praise aplenty.

Shaughnessy, however, doesn't figure on making the mistake many others have made by matching his pupil with the topnotchers in a hurry. On the other hand, he plans on bidding his time, grooming M'Auliffe, slowly and carefully, with a crack at the title as the inevitable goal.

ST. JOHNS IS DEFEATED

KENTON — St. Anthony's Institute swamped St. Johns High of Lima Friday night, 46 to 21, in a game featured by the remarkable comeback of the visitors during the last half.

St. Anthony was able to score almost at will during the first period, the score at the half being 28 to 6. During the final session, St. Johns staged a scoring rally, which was one of the most remarkable seen on a local field this season.

St. Johns was minus the services of three regulars, who are on the sick list. They are Munch, Schimpf and Stahl.

DOUGHEY FLOUR COUNTRY'S THE BEST. ASK YOUR GROCER FOR IT.

BILLY EVANS SAYS

Who will handle the speedy shoots of Walter Johnson during the coming season?

The recent trade between Washington and Boston of the American League which involves the transfer of Val Pileinich deprives Johnson of his battery mate.

Since joining the Washington club three catchers have done practically all the receiving for the speedball king. Charley Street, Eddie Almsmith and Val Pileinich.

Walter Johnson and Charley Street was the first battery to feature the famous Washington pitcher. As a matter of fact, much of Walter's early success was due to excellent handling on the part of Street.

I once asked Walter Johnson if his pitching was affected to a certain extent by his catcher, and he frankly admitted that proper catching played a most important part in his success as a pitcher. He then proceeded to pay Street a nice compliment.

"I never expect to pitch to a better catcher than 'Gaby' Street," said Johnson. "He certainly was a wonder. I never gave a thought as to a wild pitch with him doing the catching. I always felt that he would get the ball no matter where I threw it. And then there was the question of base runners. No matter how big a lead I gave the runners Street somehow always flagged them at second. He threw strikes to that base. I never was able to pitch too fast to suit him. I can smile now when I think of him. When I was pitching very early in my career back of the ball he would be gabbing in that southern drawl of his."

"Come on, Walter, put something on the ball. Your arm must be sore."

With the passing of Street, Eddie Almsmith became Johnson's battery partner. It is a rather peculiar fact that the catchers who have acted as Johnson's partners, with the exception of Street, have confined their efforts almost entirely to handling Johnson.

It is also an interesting fact that other catchers rated as star performers never met with much success in catching Johnson's shoots. I have in mind John Henry and Eddie Garrity.

Henry was with Washington at the same time as Almsmith. Henry caught practically every other pitcher. A number of times he ceased working with Johnson when Almsmith was injured, but never did very well. I regard Eddie Garrity as one of the best catchers in baseball, yet Eddie doesn't have much success handling Walter. There really is no explanation. It just so happens.

TREMINE GIVEN DECISION

NEW YORK — Ringsiders at last night's Madison Square Garden bout between Carl Tremaine, Cleveland heavyweight and Irish Johnny Curran of Jersey City, awarded to Tremaine on a technical knockout in the sixth round today were divided on the question of the foul blow claimed by the Jersey boxer.

After one of the fastest five rounds ever staged by batsmen in the garden, Curran claimed that Tremaine had landed a hard left to his groin after two minutes and thirty seconds of the sixth round.

Had Curran's claim been heard and decided after March 13, 1922.

SCORE IS CLOSE

Toledo Cathedral High, during a game in which first one team and the other would be in the lead, happened to be on the long end of the score at the final gun of the Toledo-St. Rose and won 32 to 30.

The Irish, however, had previously beaten the Toledo quintet by a three-point margin in Toledo and the sting of defeat was greatly lessened, by the fact that the two regular forwards, McNamara and Buchanan, were out of the game.

Jimmy Daley, St. Rose captain, who has been out of the game for nearly a month, stepped into the lineup Friday night and led his team in several rallies.

The game was featured by the spectacular playing of Elmo Wells, who contributed to points to the local score. Wells who is making a great bid for state scholastic cage honors was closely guarded most of the time, and in order to score, was compelled to dodge his guards.

Lineup and summary:

ST. ROSE (30)	TOLEDO (32)
Daley	RF	Ferrall
Wells	LF	Brunk
Brunk	C	Sloan
Schmiesing	RG	Justen

RECRUIT MAKES GOOD; SAYS BROTHER IS BETTER

CHICAGO — Unquestionably one of the pitching finds of last season in the majors was Ted Blankenship of the Chicago White Sox.

While Blankenship didn't draw many headlines on the sport sheet, and didn't bank in the highlight of a no-hit game as did Robertson, still Kid Gleason regards him as the most promising recruit on the Sox staff.

Blankenship bails from Bonham, Tex. That town is just east of Russell to the White Sox. It is said that the same fellow who recommended Russell tipped the Sox off to Blankenship.

No pitcher ever made a more sensational debut than the youngster. Sent into a game in which Detroit had a four or five run lead, as a result of knocking out one of the vets, Blankenship stopped 'em dead. Chicago tied up the game but the recruit (twiler) was defeated in extra innings.

Near the close of the season Secretary Grabiner of the White Sox, enthused over the fine work of Blankenship, asked him if he knew

O'DOUL TO GET OPPORTUNITY

BOSTON — Manager Frank Chance of the Red Sox has positively announced that "Lefty" O'Doul will get his cherished wish, a chance to make good as a pitcher.

Carried for three or four years by the Yanks, with the exception of a year spent in the Coast League, O'Doul has been a bench warmer practically all the time.

His great work on the coast, where he won 23 ball games, caused the Yanks to bring him back to the big show. He was counted on as having finally arrived. A bad start caused him to be again relegated to the bench. Then came the trade to Boston.

O'Doul is fast and can hit, and was used in the outfield a few times by New York. However, he expressed a desire to get a chance

NEW MARK SET IN DURANT SALES

Largest List Ever Recorded in History, Forbes Says

250,000 HOLDING STOCK

Half Million Buyers is Goal Fixed by Promoter

(BY B. C. FORBES) NEW YORK.—(Special)—Well, I spent an entire afternoon with W. C. Durant, about whose Napoleonic deals in the automobile world and selling stocks to the multitude lately I have written a good deal.

I found Mr. Durant more eager to convert me to his stock distributing plan than to discuss his producing activities. I do not mean that there was anything about his motor making operations which he was not willing to talk about or to furnish the figures about. What I want to convey is that I found him obsessed by the vision of what he is accomplishing and aspires to accomplish in coming years thru the Durant plan of distributing stocks on the installment plan, with a proviso that the buyers cannot sell until one year or two years after they have finished making payments.

"I believe it would be still better for those who become interested in the Durant plan if they could not sell out for five years," declared Mr. Durant with tremendous earnestness. "What I am after is to induce people to save money who have never done money before, and to get them to do this without any idea of making a quick clean up, no overnight stock market 'turn.'"

I learned also that there are now 250,000 Durant stockholders. This is larger total than any other corporation, either industrial or railroad, has ever recorded in the history of American business.

I learned, too, that Durant has upwards of 2,000 representatives selling the Durant plan in various parts of the country. Mr. Durant is absolutely confident that before so very long there will be, under the Durant plan, 500,000 stockholders.

It did not need this, intimate session face-to-face with Mr. Durant to convince me that he is not money mad, that he is not selfishly mercenary. I have always regarded him as honest, always realized that he possessed extraordinary ability as a producer and a distributor of motor vehicles.

But I have never been able to shake out of the feeling that he was over ambitious, that he did not know there were any limits whatsoever to what one mortal could hope to accomplish. I always feared that this untamed ambition, inspired by it was by honorable and unselfish motives, would land him in trouble.

I am not going to tell you today just what impression Mr. Durant's four hour talk made upon me.

My final analysis of Durant's latest mammoth enterprises and undertakings will be influenced by figures and facts I have not yet in my possession.

The final upshot of our session was this: Mr. Durant most readily agreed to answer any question I care to put to him about any phase of his operations.

I am going to write out rather a lengthy list of questions about which I know that his followers, his critics, and the general public alike will be interested in having answered.

They promise to be worth waiting for.

REIGN OF TERROR PLANS CHARGED TO I. W. W.

SACRAMENTO, Calif.—An inner secret society composed of 300 members of the Industrial Workers of the World is being formed to carry on a reign of terror, including assassination of jurists and bombing of buildings as a means of checking I. W. W. prosecutions, W. E. Townsend, Los Angeles police officer and former member of the I. W. W., testified here yesterday in the trial of five men charged with violating the California criminal syndicalism act.

He aroused a farmer, who gave him first aid treatment, and then stood guard thru the night, watching for a train to take the injured man to the hospital at Lima.

All passenger trains for the night had gone and it was nearly 8 o'clock Saturday morning before a freight train appeared, which was flagged and Benoit placed in the caboose and brought to Lima.

67 AUTOS DESTROYED WHEN GARAGE BURNS

CAMBRIDGE, Ohio.—Fire destroyed the Gregg and Atherton garage in Evesville, south of here, today with an estimated loss of $125,000. For a time the entire business section of the village was menaced but the flames were brought under control with help of Cambridge apparatus. Sixty-seven automobiles were destroyed.

No cause for the fire has been found. The automobile firm had received a number of new cars this week, including three of an expensive make. Many privately owned cars also were stored in the garage. The loss is covered partially by insurance.

CHANGE IN WHEAT PRICE SLIGHT

Market Unsettled at Close—Corn on Upward Move

CHICAGO.—Fresh uptakes in the price of wheat took place Saturday during the early dealings, the chief factor being absence of any renewal of heavy selling. Besides, weather conditions in the winter wheat belt acted as a handicap to bears. Commission houses were the principal buyers. The opening which ranged from 1-8 to 1-2 to 5-8 higher, with May $1.20 1-4 to 1-2 1-2 and July $1.16 1-8 to 1-16 1-4, was followed by a slight reaction, but then the market rallied.

Corn and oats were firmer with wheat. After opening 1-8 to 3-8 up, May 75 1-4 to 75 3-8, the corn market scored a little further upturn before beginning to react.

Oats started 1-8 off to 3-8 advance, May 45 1-4 to 45 3-8 and later held near to the initial range. Provisions showed a little strength with grain, despite lower quotations on hogs.

Corn closed unsettled 3-8 to 5-8 net higher, May 75 5-8 to 75 5-8 and 3-4. The wheat close was unsettled 3-8 net lower to 1-2 advance, May $1.19 7-8 to $1.20 and July $1.15 3-4 to 1-15 3-4.
